

Biggest mall in northern emirates opens in RAK

Dh265m Al Hamra Mall houses more than 300 retail outlets

- Staff Report
- Published: 00:00 April 17, 2010

Ras Al Khaimah: Shaikh Mohammad Bin Saud Al Qasimi, son of Shaikh Saud Bin Saqr Al Qasimi, Crown Prince and Deputy Ruler of Ras Al Khaimah, inaugurated the Al Hamra Mall in Ras Al Khaimah on Thursday evening.

Billed as the biggest shopping mall in the northern emirates, Al Hamra Mall houses over 200 retail outlets in addition to a food court offering a diverse range of international cuisine, and a children's play area. Al Hamra Mall is set amid the iconic Al Hamra Village and offers a blend of shopping, entertainment, dining and recreational options.

Top brands

Comprising 300,000 square feet spread over two floors, the mall brings many top of the line international brands and retailers for the first time to the emirate. The Al Hamra Mall involves an investment of Dh265 million.

Dr Ayoub Al Faraj, General Manager of Al Hamra Real Estate Development LLC, which owns and operates the mall, said, "Al Hamra Mall is set to redefine the retail landscape of Ras Al Khaimah with its beautiful interiors, modern spacious outlets and an impressive collection of international brands."

Shaikh Khalid Bin Saud Al Qasimi, Chairman of Masafi Sports Club, Shaikh Abdullah Bin Humaid Bin Abdullah Al Qasimi, Office Manager of the Ras Al Khaimah Crown Prince, Shaikh Saqr Bin Mohammad Bin Saqr Al Qasimi, Dr Khater Massaad, CEO of Ras Al Khaimah Investment Authority and Hamad Al Mutawa, Managing Director of RAK Ceramics, were present.

© Gulf News 2010