Stockholm: A Swedish prosecutor says police are "98 per cent" certain the Stockholm suicide bomber is 28-year-old Taimour Abdul Wahab who is a Swedish citizen but also lived several years in Britain.

Prosecutor Tomas Lindstrand Monday said Abdul Wahab has his roots in the Middle East and has been a Swedish citizen since 1992.

Lindstrand said Abdul Wahab was also the registered owner of the car that exploded in Stockholm shortly before the suicide blast on Saturday.

He said the man had explosives strapped to his body and in a backpack. He hasn't yet been identified by DNA tests or by relatives and was completely unknown to security police before the incident.
